Subject: Requisition Cancelled

April 22, 2009

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for applying for the position of Calculating Solutions Design Engineer, requisition # 252421. Due to a business decision, this requisition has been cancelled and will be removed from our website. We encourage you to revisit our Corporate website to apply for other positions that may be of interest to you.

We will retain your information in our candidate database for one year for the purpose of matching your job skills and interests to future job openings. You have the option of having your information automatically reviewed against the required skills for future job openings as they occur.

Thank you for your application. We wish you all the best in your career search.

Sincerely,
Hewlett-Packard Company

Please note: Your application and any additional information you provide to us will be added to our international resume database located in the United States and Canada and will be used only for the purpose of reviewing your skills and interests against job openings at HP.

This resume database will be shared with third parties acting on behalf of HP and who may be located in other geographies. These third parties are under contract to HP and bound by terms of confidentiality and the same data privacy rules in usage at HP.

If there has been no activity on your candidate information for one year, it will be removed from our database. You may update or make changes to your profile by going to www.hp.com/go/jobs (external use) or Job Searcher (internal use).

If you would like to delete your profile from our database, after you have signed in, select My Account Options at the top of the page, then Deactivate. This will withdraw all your applications from all the positions you applied to, and will remove your profile from the database.

Use of this site indicates your acceptance of the Terms of Use.
